The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The situation must be pretty bad at San Diego. The church people have begun praying for the Common Councilmen.

The way of the transgressor is hard, especially of the transgressor who skips to parts unknown to escape an indictment by the United States grand jury, and then returns with childlike confidence in the chance of the offended government having forgotten all about it.

The Supervisors are digging wells and building windmills along the road from Los Angeles to Pomona, especially in the neighborhood of El Monte. This water will be used for sprinkling the roads, making the drive from Pomona to the city one of the pleasantest in all the country round.

El Monte has an interesting historical relic—the first Masonic lodge ever built in Southern California. The building was erected in 1856 and still does service for its original purpose. The ravages of time have recently necessitated the building of a new roof and the use of new weatherboarding.

If the operation of a ferry at Santa Monica depends upon receiving a franchise from the Supervisors of this county it will probably be delayed for some time. The District Attorney has handed down an opinion to the effect that the board has no authority under the petition as presented. This authority will have to come from a higher source.

The new army regulations received by officers in Southern California provide that an officer who sustains bodily injury while riding a bicycle, either for pleasure or on duty, shall be regarded as receiving injury, "in the line of duty." The government recognizes that in riding for exercise the officer is thus increasing his bodily efficiency, and should he run into a red cow, or other mishap while astride a wheel, the national government will regard the mishap with the same general consideration that it would regard the loss of an ear or a leg in action.

The Board of Supervisors has given the Superintendent of the County Hospital authority to exclude any visitor whose presence he may think is inimical to the best interests of the patients. Just what lies behind this action is not quite clear, but Supervisor Hanley voted "no," upon its passage. The petition bore the names of a large number of physicians of this county. If this is a movement toward shutting out any honorable school of medicine its intention is abominable and dishonorable, and should be stamped out in the courts if it is impossible elsewhere.

The Board of Supervisors received a communication from a banking house of Chicago and New York asking information in regard to the proposed refunding of the bonds of this county. The bank asserts a belief that it can float the bonds at 4 1/2 per cent. annual interest, and asks for more definite information. The letter was referred to the District Attorney for a written opinion upon the authority of the Board of Supervisors to refund the bonds. The tone of the letter indicates that this county's credit is considered first-class in the East, and that its paper is very little below that of the government in the financial market.

The City Councilmen have awakened from their dream of having the City Hall lighted with electricity gratis, to learn that before this desideratum is attained a cool thousand or more of "cork wheels" will have to be spent in putting the hall in shape for the illumination. "Twice over, since man began to first think of getting something for nothing, but the Councilmen may, at least learn from their repeated experiences the wisdom of inquiring carefully what an action ordered to be taken by them will entail in the way of expense to the city, whose interests they are supposed to keep somewhat in mind.

There is certain to be a difference of opinion among many as to the wisdom or propriety of the Fine Commission's decision in refusing to allow the engines and apparatus of the department to make a part of the Fourth of July parade. A large number of business men and insurance agents protested to the commission against the department's participating in the parade, but to many of the persons who held enjoyment in a Fourth of July procession a parade of that sort without the fire department, being included in it, would resemble the play of "Hamlet," with no Hamlet in the cast. Never before, since the history of the department began, has it failed to make a part of the celebration of Independence day.

THE ART-LOVING PUBLIC

PLEA FOR JEWS.

WARSAWIAK ADDRESSES THE CHRISTIAN ALLIANCE.

Last Session Held Yesterday Afternoon—Addressed by Mrs. Waddell—Successful Closing Day of the Convention.

For seven days, with three long sessions each day, the Christian Alliance Convention has continued, and the interest grew in intensity to the last moment, when, at nearly 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon, it was closed. After the usual animated praise and testimony meeting in the morning, Mr. Waddell spoke for an hour and a half on the theme of the Holy Spirit in life and in service, his own ministry during these days being the best illustration of his theme.

At 2 o'clock Mrs. Waddell conducted an hour's service in the lecture-room, devoted to answering further questions and enlarging upon the subject of the great ministry of prayer.

In the auditorium, after the opening exercises, the Faith Mission of Santa Barbara, a property valued at $12,000, which has recently come into the hands of the Alliance board, was brought before the convention in its history, great as its good work and its future uses. A debt of nearly $4000 rests upon it, which furnishes opportunity for givers to bestow help to redit for its largest uses. Soon after 3 o'clock Hermann Warsawiak of New York stepped upon the platform. He is a Polish Jew of short stature, beardless and fresh-faced, with genuine Jewish physiognomy. He was converted to Christianity some years ago, endured many losses and persecutions for his new religion, and is recognized as one of the foremost evangelists to the Jews. His speech, although broken, is full of fire and eloquence, and his love for Israel is a passion. He is superintendent of a vast mission work in New York, which is now, by his tour over the country, taking on national proportions, as its name, American Mission to the Jews, indicates.

Mr. Warsawiak spoke to an audience of nearly a thousand, beginning with the text, Romans 1: "Brethren, my prayer and my heart's desire for Israel is that they might be saved." This is my prayer, said the speaker, if it had not been written in the Bible, this would have been my prayer—that they might be saved from sin, from darkness, from misery. You all know what a gem that is, to have in Jesus Saviors. Yet so many good Christians brought up to it, have a very poor idea of the value of the gem they hold. You Alliance people have been discovering somewhat more in Him, and you call Him not only Saviors, but also Sanctifier, Healer and Coming King. But it is very different with us Israelites. If I told you all the bitter cups I had to drink because I wished to call on Jesus Saviors, you would say, "I value the Saviors, how I adore Him. But He wants every one to find Him in all His preciousness. You will experience it the moment you open your heart, and stretch out your hands of faith and let Him in. You talk of a four-fold gospel, but so many Christians do not feel that they can trust God to lead them, from sickness. We Jews, if converted, would be ashamed in sickness to take any medicine. As long as I was a Jew I was sick, but since I became a Christian I have never been sick, and have worked and preached incessantly. We have neglected the divine command, and have not preached to the Jews at all, whereas the Word says: 'Go to the Jew first, and to the Gentiles also.' I do not need to go to the Scriptures to inform you about the Jews, for you all know your Bibles. If any one does not know about the Jews, it is because he does not know his Bible, for all their history is told in the Scriptures. The trouble is that Christians take to themselves the blessings given in the Bible to Jews. There is a literal Zion and Israel. Jesus is enough for you Christians. When the Word speaks about Jews it means Jews, not Presbyterians, or Baptists, or the rest. God has a mighty future for Israel. We should love the Jews and be their friends, because God loved them, and has chosen them as His people. They have given us a Bible, a Saviors, and the church. It is uncountable that eighteen centuries have passed, and so little is done for Israel. How much have even you Alliance people prayed for their conversion? How much have you loved them? How much have you given for them, in comparison with other nations? You are guilty people today, because you have neglected God's purposes concerning Jews. God forgives those Christians who have no interest in Israel. They are as much in blindness concerning Israel as Israel is concerning Christ. God is going to give the Kingdom to Israel. They are to be brought back. They have been cast off for your sakes, and shall be restored by your mercy. Then, when Israel is restored under Christ, instead of a few converts on a mission field, a whole nation will be born in a day.

The Jews are coming by the thousands to the meetings in New York, and no people are so hungry for the gospel as the Jews. The Lord gets all the glory. People cannot even pronounce my name, so people cannot say "See what the great Mr. Brown or Smith is doing," but it has to be said, "See what a great work God is doing through a little Jew. I do not know how to pronounce his name." God has used us for the conversion of very many Jews, and to preach to over one hundred thousand Jews in our land. You do not know what it costs a Jew to come to Christ. My parents disowned me; my wife's parents became my bitter enemies; my wife and children denied me, and I could not stay in my city one night in safety. For six years I was separated from my wife. Now she has come to the knowledge of Christ, and has come back to me, and is being greatly used for Christ. But all these bitter things only bring me nearer and nearer to Him we trust. Our Jewish preachers are in all the earth without salary or pension of even 1¢. They all go forth in faith in God. We are all one in Christ. Pray for the peace of Jesus alone. "I will bless them that bless thee," God takes pleasure in them that love Israel. Jesus is the King of the Jews and you should invite them in His name to search the Scriptures, and see if He, whom they now reject, is not their King. What will not the Jew lay down at Jesus' feet when he finds Him, and the Jew is God's greatest natural preacher. Let us show the Jews our love, and welcome them. Let it be your pleasure to do all you can for the conversion of the Jews.

Prisoner's Clever Ruse to Get New Garments is Foiled.

James Burns is, legally, a free man, but he will have to remain in jail until he sews up his clothes.

He was sentenced to forty days in jail for stealing a pair of shoes, and his sentence was finished yesterday, but he did not leave the jail.

Ever since his arrest he has caused the jailers a good deal of annoyance, and tore his clothes up so that he would not be sent out on the chain-gang. He was placed in the dungeon and dined on bread and water until he made himself presentable.

Yesterday he tore his trousers into shreds so that he would be sent to the pair when he was turned out. He was a sorry-looking sight, but Jailer Flammertold him that he could have no new clothes and could not leave the jail until he had mended his attire.

BREADED HER LAST.

Sarah Russell's Thirteen Hours of Suffering Ends.

Surrounded by relatives, Sisters of Charity and doctors, Sarah Russell, after thirteen hours of terrible agony, breathed her last in the Receiving Hospital at 11 o'clock yesterday morning without regaining consciousness.

She was taken to the hospital from the Orpheum Theater yesterday evening, as related in The Times yesterday morning.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Mary Tosney, remained with her until her death, and early in the morning two Sisters of Charity came to the bedside and prayed for the sufferer until death came to her relief.

OUT HIS THROAT.

J. W. Derrin Taken to the Receiving Hospital.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning Officer Henderson found a man named J. W. Derrin wandering around in the vicinity of First and Hewitt streets. He had no coat, vest or hat and was in his stocking feet.

The officer questioned him and the man said he had tramped all the way from Boise, Idaho, and had come into Los Angeles by way of Pasadena. For some days, he said, he had been living in a camp of bushes across the river, subsisting on whatever he could find. Across his throat was a long cut which was just healing up. Henderson asked him how he got it and the fellow said he had tried to kill himself. He bore no evidence of being mentally unbalanced and was sent to the Receiving Hospital for medical treatment.

Mariano Perez, said to be an ex-convict, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Talamantes in Upper Main street. Perez, it is said, stole a sack of flour from a grocer named Pascual at No. 613 Upper Main street. He was arrested by Talamantes and sent to the penitentiary some time ago for larceny with a prior conviction.

Fire Department not to Turn Out on the Fourth.

Thus Ordered by the Fire Commission—Reasons Given.

Mrs. Burbank Defeats Firebaugh in His Suit for Eight Thousand Dollars—Eleven Marriage Licenses, Stinson Dynamite.

The Fire Commission decided yesterday against allowing the department apparatus to be made a part of the parade on the Fourth of July. It was discovered yesterday that the work of putting the City Hall in shape for electric light will cost the Council almost $1000. Members of that body are well known to be in a panic-stricken state of mind.

At the Courthouse yesterday a decision was reached in the suit of Attorney Firebaugh of San Francisco against Mrs. Blanche M. Burbank of this city for $8000. The testimony was damaging to the plaintiff and resulted in a verdict for Mrs. Burbank. Marshall, the burglar, was dispatched to San Quentin. The Board of Supervisors transacted some important business. The Stinson alleged dynamite is on trial, and Coyne is making a desperate defense. Supervisors have no authority over the Santa Monica ferry. The Pomona liquor seller's habeas corpus resulted in Tinsler being remanded.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT ON THE FOURTH OF JULY.

Board of Fire Commissioners Refuses the Request Made by the Fourth of July Executive Committee—Insurance and Business Men Protest.

The brass machines of the Fire Department will not be seen in the usual parade on the Fourth of July. This was decided upon at the meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners. The matter came up on a number of petitions from business men and insurance agents, protesting against the practice of allowing the Fire Department apparatus to be used in the parade on Independence day.

FROM BUSINESS FIRMS.

First on the list of petitions was the following, which the Clerk read, signed by 100 business men of the city:

"The undersigned, property owners and underwriters hereby request that you do not permit the Fire Department of this city to participate or take part in the parade on the Fourth of July. While recognizing the excellent impression this department of the city's service always makes when on parade, we think the past experience demonstrates that the interests of the city will be served best if the department is kept on guard and ready to answer any call in even better time than is its custom, that is, when conditions are normal, and the air is not full of Chinese bombs, firecrackers and other profane causes of fires."

INSURANCE AGENTS OBJECT.

"J. K. Trumbull, an insurance agent, has filed the following with the board, which was also read by the Clerk: "As a representative of one of the leading fire insurance companies doing business in this city, I would respectfully request that the department which you have charge of, do not turn out on the Fourth of July in parade, as has been the custom of years for making this request are too obvious for explanation. I trust the good judgment you have shown in the past management of the department will be continued in the future."

PETITION NUMBER THREE.

The last four words of the following petition from C. O. Hawley, agent of a fire insurance company, will sound rather queer to some ears:

"I notice that your board has been requested to permit the Fire Department to participate in the Fourth of July parade. I most respectfully protest against this proceeding. The Fire Department is not a toy, but was bought with the people's money, and the people are taxed to support it upon the theory that the protection is worth something. Fire insurance companies doing business in this city, and property owners generally, have a right to the protection which they pay for. There is another feature which should not be lost sight of, and that is, that in the event of a fire, without a response of the department to an alarm properly turned in, the persons suffering the loss and the insurance company paying the loss, would have, in the opinion of good attorneys, an action against the city for damages. This was the view taken by the attorneys of a fire insurance company in a case of the kind which occurred on the Fourth of July last year. "However that may be, it is your duty to conduct the affairs of the department for the public safety and for the public pleasure. It might add something to the enjoyment of the small boy to see the fire engines in the parade, but it would be but for a cause of alarm in the mind of any thoughtful person, who would realize the immense value of property, and perhaps life, left without protection, for a foolish exhibition."

AND LASTLY THIS!

The following, addressed to the board, is from an insurance agent named Wheeler:

"We understand that an effort is being made to induce your board to permit the Fire Department to take part in the Fourth of July parade, and we respectfully urge upon you the inadvisability of allowing the vast property interests of the city to remain unprotected, even though it be but for a few hours. The Fourth of July is the one day in the year when we expect numerous fires, and it frequently happens that several alarms come almost simultaneously from widely separated points, and prudence would indicate the necessity of having the department ready to respond to all calls with the least possible delay. We suggest that rather than have the department in the parade, it would be wise to adopt the plan followed in other cities, and have the firemen on duty from the afternoon of the third to the morning of the fifth, not permitting them to be absent even for meals. It will no doubt be urged that as we have had no serious fires on the Fourth of July in the past it will be unnecessary to take any precautions at this time. We have no doubt that you will agree with us that immunity from trouble in the past is no guarantee of safety in the future."

Several members of the Fourth of July Executive Committee were present and heard these petitions read. They addressed the commission upon the subject, saying that the department apparatus had always in the past taken part in the Fourth of July celebration, and no special reason existed against a like action this year. The commission, however, were too much influenced by the petitions, and other circumstances, to heed the plea made by the Fourth of July people, and decided against them, issuing an order that the department remain on duty during the Fourth of July celebration, and on the following day.

The commissionmen departed, with anything but smiles upon their faces. They were on the contrary decidedly gloomy over the outlook.

The invitation extended to the board by the Executive Committee to take part in the Fourth of July celebration, and parade was accepted.

A communication was received from the Los Angeles Railway Company, in relation to having a fire-alarm box placed in the dispatcher's office of the company. This for the purpose of enabling the company to know where fires were, and to take the necessary precautions, either to get cars out of the way, or to get the bridge open, and generally to aid the department.

The request of the company was granted, upon the condition that the expense incurred be not borne by the city.

Chief Moore reported having suspended J. H. Hays, foreman of engine No. 3, for neglect of duty, and failure to respond to alarms.

The Chief's action in the matter was sustained, and upon a motion to drop Hays from the department 4 ayes, and but 1 "no" were recorded, and Hays was accordingly dropped.

Mr. Coleman, upon the Chief's recommendation, was granted permission to operate a hand laundry at No. 648 Upper Main street.

TRYING TO GAIN TIME.

Peck Lighting Company and its Work in the City Hall.

Members of the City Council are learning with some degree of surprise that a big bill will soon be presented to them for the work performed in placing electrical fixtures in the City Hall. When the fuss and debate between the Peck Lighting Company and the Council, as to which should pay for this work, was on, several weeks ago, it was stated that the job could be done for about $30 or $40. With this understanding, or in fact, without a very definite understanding of any sort, the City Electrician was told to proceed with the work, by such supplies and hire such men as he thought necessary. This has been done and $400 has already been spent on the job, with $300 more to be drawn from the city treasury, to complete the work, according to the estimate of the City Electrician. When the Councilmen heard of this yesterday, they breathed hard, and then congratulated themselves on having cut the Fourth of July appropriation down $500 worth.

It was then decided that the work of placing the electrical fixtures in the hall is being purposely delayed so as to allow the Peck people to get machinery and men to the city, and will supply the light necessary to be had in the City Hall. At the present time, the resources of the Peck company, are not at all adequate to the necessities of the case. The matter is apt to receive attention at the hands of the Council next Monday, and an investigation of the matter will probably be made between now and that time.

LAND FOR A BOULEVARD.

Proposition Made to the Council by Property Owners.

The following communication signed by D. F. Donegan and G. S. Fudicker yesterday filed with the City Clerk:

"To the Honorable City Council: H. H. Metcalf having heretofore made a proposition to deed to the city of Los Angeles a boulevard for park purposes, 120 feet wide, running in a northerly direction through his land from Sixth street and Sunset Park, we, the undersigned, property owners adjoining Mr. Metcalf and extending from his land to First street, hereby agree that we will also deed to the city of Los Angeles a continuation of the boulevard offered by him upon the same terms and conditions and to extend through our land to First street."

(AT THE COURT HOUSE.)

FIREBAUGH DEFEATED.

MRS. BURBANK WINS IN HER ALLEGATIONS OF COERCION.

The Sharp San Francisco Attorney Falls to Get Judgment for Eight-Thousand-Dollar Suit. Judgment Given for Defendant.

Attorney Firebaugh may be a shrewd San Francisco lawyer, but he will hardly carry his astute practices into a Los Angeles court in future. His management of the Walkerley estate is said to be open to criticism, and a climax was reached in his career yesterday. Firebaugh succeeded to the attorneyship of the executors of the Walkerley estate a few months after the will was admitted to probate, but it is charged he has not been content with a reasonable fee running through several years, and involving much litigation. Mrs. Blanche M. Burbank, of the city, wife of W. F. Burbank, contested the will of her deceased husband, and through a decision of the Supreme Court succeeded to the entire property. Impelled by the two contesting beneficiaries, a present of about $10,000 each, and so appreciative of the attorney's services, he insisted upon coming in as a third party in sharing the $20,000, and was awarded the additional $10,000 above the $10,000 each to the two beneficiaries being a cancellation of a certain indebtedness. Mrs. Burbank charged that through mental distress she acceded to his demand, agreeing to pay him $7000. A considerable portion of the total amount was paid, and under the insistence of Firebaugh she gave her note for $6000. Of this amount $1500 was paid, when Mrs. Burbank ascertained that she was to receive a gift of $7000 from Mrs. Burbank although he had been so informed by the latter. She was greatly surprised when she learned from Mrs. Burbank that she was to receive $7000. This aroused the suspicion of the beneficiary, and she once began to question in her own mind the honesty of Firebaugh believing that he intended to divert his own use of the difference between $5000 and $7000.

Mrs. Burbank now refused to make further payments upon the note which had been reduced by payments from $5000 to $3000. Firebaugh brought suit to enforce payment, and the case has been on trial before Judge Shaw for four days, ending last evening in a decision in favor of Mrs. Burbank. The cause has been bitterly contested and Firebaugh was flayed alive, metaphorically, by Attorney Pape in his argument before the court. After the decision of the Supreme Court the distribution of the estate had been retarded by the beneficiary's own attorney, who claimed in one breath that a suit was pending in the Federal Court and might tie up the estate for years, and in the next declared that if Mrs. Burbank would consent to pay a big fee the suit in that court need not retard immediate distribution. Decisions by the Supreme Court showing the relation of executor's attorneys toward beneficiaries were quoted in substantiation of this sweeping charge.

The declaration that, several days had been devoted to the estate by the attorney during two years was regarded as preposterous.

During Firebaugh's examination Judge Shaw pertinently remarked: "You were acting for the executors nominally, and for the beneficiaries practically in the contest before the Supreme Court; the executors had no interest in that contest and you should have let the beneficiaries and Mrs. Burbank fight it out."

Attorney Rogers of San Francisco declared that $1000 would have been liberal allowance for Firebaugh's services during the two years since November, 1892.

An attempt may be made to have Firebaugh disbarred.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

"Detective" Coyne on Trial for the Stinson Outrage.

The cause of the people against Harry L. Coyne, charged with trying to blow up T. D. Stinson's residence on February 6, 1896, was on trial before Judge Smith and a jury yesterday and will be continued this morning. Among the witnesses who testified were T. D. Stinson, ex-W. W. Sabich, George T. Insley, J. M. Glass, Fred C. Devendorf and E. G. Stinson. The testimony was in harmony with that called out by Coyne's preliminary examination before Justice Young a few months ago.

It will be remembered that Coyne claimed to be a detective and went to Mr. Stinson and unfolded a deep plot to blow up his property and take his life. Coyne claimed that these desperate crooks had recently come in from Mexico and that he had them under his control and would place in proper arrangements could be made. After listening to Coyne's tale of woe and his important mission, Mr. Stinson, which to get one of the men embalmed in liquor so he could be used as the subject of a confession, Mr. Stinson refused to confer with the "detective" and turned the matter over to Chief of Police Glass.

Coyne appears to have become discouraged through the reception of his kind offers by the millionaire, and he trained his eyes upon Fred C. Devendorf, the capitalist's bookkeeper, and confidential agent. Devendorf, who is a man of considerable means, and related Mr. Stinson's indifference to the impending doom hanging over him, and asked for his assistance. Coyne then made a request for a modest advance of $250, the remaining $250 of the irreducible fund of $500 to be paid when the deed had been done. The happy hunting ground by Coyne's strong arm.

A short time after the conversations revealed to the police, an explosion of dynamite shook up the neighborhood of the more aristocratic portion of Figueroa street, and an unknown person, and very near the massive stone walls of the handsome residence.

The theory advanced by the prosecution is that Coyne did the devilish crime in order to intimidate Mr. Stinson and cause him to yield up the money in order to satisfy the greed of merely imaginary desperate characters.

The cause is still on trial and will probably consume at the least all of today.

OFF TO SAN QUENTIN.

Marshall was previously sentenced to five years in San Quentin by Judge McKinley and the above bill of exceptions was taken.

A PRODIGAL'S RETURN.

Habeas Corpus of Fayton Set for Trial.

The habeas corpus of F. Fayton has been set for hearing before Judge York at 9 o'clock this morning. The petition was presented by Mrs. F. Fayton Bequette, wife of the defendant. This document recites that on November 5, 1886, Fayton was admitted to a vagrant and sentenced to ninety days in the City Jail, and that he is still restrained of his liberty and compelled to work upon the streets. The District Attorney's office claims that Fayton, alias Bequette, is a man and that, after his sentence he was given a "float," but he returned to his love in this city in express violation of his agreement, and he was at once thrown into jail to serve his sentence.

Confidence is expressed that the prosecution will be able to defeat the habeas corpus, and show up the man's character.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Santa Monica Ferry—A River's Channel—Refunding County Bonds.

The application of Charles F. Becknell, County Auditor, for one redemption clerk during the month of June, for the purpose of computing the index to property, was granted, upon motion of Supervisor Field.

The petition from L. W. and W. E. Stevens for a ferry franchise at Santa Monica, previously referred to the District Attorney as to the powers of the board in the premises, was called up at yesterday morning's session, and the following indorsement by the legal head of the county was read: "This notice is insufficient under sec. 1892 of the Political Code to give the board jurisdiction. J. A. Donnell, District Attorney, is the proper officer to be notified of the petitioners of this decision."

An application was received from County Treasurer Fleming for a deputy from June 1, 1896, at $75 per month. This would mean a deputy in the office of the County Auditor during the month of June. The motion of Supervisor Woodward the additional assistant was granted for the month of June.

The petition was received by the board from Mrs. Emille Ellis, asking permission to construct a culvert or conduit across Western avenue, near the intersection of Figueroa street, and the Stinson property, Santa Monica avenue, opposite the Mayberry ranch, of sufficient size to convey the water flowing in the Figueroa street zanja.

The petition was referred to the board to locate and establish the channel of the San Gabriel River, in view of the following opinion by the District Attorney:

"The act approved March 27, 1895, statutes of 1895, page 248, is the statute in force authorizing the location and establishment of the channel of navigable streams. Provision is here made for establishing protection districts. This petition does not ask for the formation of such district, and shows of no other provision authorizing the board to locate and establish the channel of the San Gabriel River, as prayed for herein."

The bond of Miguel Marquez for a saloon license at Santa Monica Cañon was approved.

The application of Gaspar Valenzuela for a restaurant liquor license at The Palms was approved.

The application of Walter Hornback for a restaurant liquor license at Ingleside was denied.

M. Valesco was granted a restaurant liquor license at Los Angeles.

The following applications for saloon licenses were set for hearing June 17, at 10:30 o'clock a.m.: J. H. Camblin, Covina; Ed. H. Hushin, Wilmington.

The Southern Pacific Railway Company has filed a certificate of redemption of the following lands sold to the State for delinquent taxes: Lot 3, Palmdale Colony; lots 1 and 2, containing 24 acres, in section 13, township 1 south, range 10 west; lot 7, Palmdale Colony; 140 acres in section 31, township 1 north, range 14 west.

The claim of E. B. Ryan for rebate of taxes, amounting to $107.25, was rejected as barred by section 41 of the County Government Act.

The claim of N. C. Carter for $35.40, alleged to be due for 864 loads of decomposed granite, was discussed and disallowed.

The woodwork and roof of the Court-house office claim to be painted. The Board of Supervisors has instructed the clerk to advertise for bids, to be opened June 17, 1896, at 2 o'clock p.m. All bids must be accompanied by a check for $75.

A communication has been received by the board in regard to the refunding of the county's indebtedness. The letter is from Laramie, Lead & Co., of Chicago and New York, and in part says: "We have referred again to the pamphlet you sent us some time ago, setting out the details of the bonds of the county, and are inclined to think we could refund the entire indebtedness by the issue of 4 1/2 per cent. bonds. Are we to understand that the bonds you now expect to issue, as well as the present indebtedness, are to be redeemable at the pleasure of the county?"

The letter was referred to the District Attorney with a request for a written opinion as to whether this board has authority to refund any or all of the outstanding county bonds.

A petition numerously signed by the physicians of Los Angeles was presented to the board, to give the superintendent of the County Hospital authority to exclude any visitor or visitors he may judge prejudicial to the patients. He desired, all Supervisors voting yes excepting Hays.

(AT THE U. S. BUILDING.)

THE FEDERAL COURTS.

Arrest of Louis Rudolph for Writing Obscene Letters.

The futility of expecting an offense against the government to blow over after a few months' time has just been demonstrated by the arrest of Louis Rudolph on the charge of sending obscene matter through the mail.

Rudolph was a stockholder in a company formed to develop water in the San Gabriel Cañon, and he had a dispute with another stockholder, Rev. August Kowalewski of Lamanda Park. It was over the ever-recurring question of water rights, and feeling ran high. That was three or four months ago, and the arrival of St. Valentine's day, with its usual display of hideous and vulgar "come and pass" valentines, suggested to Rudolph a delicious revenge upon his enemy.

Selecting several of the most atrocious and insulting pictures obtainable for money, Rudolph added to the refined and humorous legends attached to them a few sparks from his own seething brain, fluently expressed in the German language, as being better adapted to the adequate expression of his sentiments than plain English. These precious missives Rudolph enclosed in envelopes and got Alvin Bahmer, a friend of his, to address them. Bahmer, ignorant of the character of the communications, did so, and was much surprised when he was indicted, not so long after, for having helped send scurrilous matter through the mails.

Rudolph, as soon as there was a hint of possible trouble, made tracks for Arizona, where he remained until a few days ago, when he returned to Los Angeles, evidently flattering himself that the whole affair had blown over. He was cruelly undeceived when he was nabbed in the Courthouse by deputy of the United States Marshal, and brought before the bar of justice to answer for his illegally variegated talents in the line of correspondence. Bahmer was examined about two months ago, and discharged as having been innocent of evil intent.

Ed Smith Convicted.

Choppo Mender of No. 227 Eastlake avenue yesterday swore to a complaint against John Doe Piper, charging him with the larceny of a revolver.

LOSE MILLIONS

Tobacco Manufacturers Out $10,000,000 in '96.

Prospect of Still Larger Loss in '99.

Great Anxiety in Tobacco Circles.

CHICAGO—(Special.) It was reported here today that a large sum of money has been offered for the tobacco habit cure No-To-Bac, famous all over the country for its wonderful cures. This offer, it is said, was made by parties who desire to take it off the market and stop the sale, because of its injury to the tobacco business. General Manager Kramer, of No-To-Bac, when interviewed at his office, No. 45 Randolph street, said: "No, sir, No-To-Bac is not for sale to the tobacco trust. Certainly No-To-Bac affects the tobacco business, but it will cure over two hundred thousand people in 1896, at an average saving of $5 which each smoker otherwise expend for tobacco, amounting in round figures to $10,000,000. Of course tobacco dealers' loss is gained by the cure. Does No-To-Bac benefit physically? Yes, sir. The majority of our patients report an immediate gain of flesh and their general absolute guarantee that three boxes will cure any case. Failure to cure is money back. Of course there are failures, but they are few, and we can better afford to have the good will of an occasional failure than the loss of the good will of a little book called 'Don't Smoke Spit and Smoke Your Life Away,' that tells all about No-To-Bac, which will be mailed free to any one desiring it. Address the Sterling Co., Chicago, Montreal, Can., or New York."

The wedding of Miss Maud E. Seaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Seaver, and Walter C. Vallikett, at the Unity Church last evening, was a very pretty affair. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Thompson. Three hundred invitations were issued to the church. Miss Haines presided at the organ, playing the Lohengrin march at the entrance of the bride party, and the Mendelssohn at the close of the ceremony. A reception for the bride party and relatives was held at the new home of the bride and groom, No. 811 West Eleventh street. An effective background for the bride party was arranged at one end of the parlor, where the windows had been covered with a thick network of pepper sprays, upon which was outlined in pink and white roses and carnations. In the center of this were two hearts, one of pink and the other of white carnations, intertwined. True love knots of pink and white carnations were fastened against the wall, and pepper and ivy sprays were gracefully arranged about the doorway. THE NEW LIQUOR CURE.

How it Happens to Be in Such Favor Everywhere.

The National Liquor Cure Company have been working men in treating patients for the liquor habit, and practically no failures. The reason is not far to seek. The antidote used is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, agreeable to the taste, and it can be taken at home or wherever the patient happens to be, and that without anybody else knowing anything about it. And, then, there are no after bad effects. It cures without leaving some other miserable habit or disease in its place. The treatment is in the patient's own hands; there is no publicity of the "institute" kind, such as sensitive men and women the world over shrink from; a cure is effected in a very short time, and the expense is only a fraction of what it would be in one of the institutes, namely, $25.

THE NEW LIQUOR CURE.

How it Happens to Be in Such Favor Everywhere.

The National Liquor Cure Company have been working men in treating patients for the liquor habit, and practically no failures. The reason is not far to seek. The antidote used is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, agreeable to the taste, and it can be taken at home or wherever the patient happens to be, and that without anybody else knowing anything about it. And, then, there are no after bad effects. It cures without leaving some other miserable habit or disease in its place. The treatment is in the patient's own hands; there is no publicity of the "institute" kind, such as sensitive men and women the world over shrink from; a cure is effected in a very short time, and the expense is only a fraction of what it would be in one of the institutes, namely, $25.

The Los Angeles office of the National Liquor Cure Company is in the Wilson Block, corner of First and Spring streets, in rooms 122 and 123. A lady is in attendance to wait on ladies who wish to investigate the system in the interest of relatives or friends, and the fullest information will be furnished, will be given to inquirers of either sex. There is no mystery about the medicines or methods. Persons may even take home with them enough of the "cure" to last them three or four days for home or no charge to be made if the result of the trial is not satisfactory. And this point should not be lost sight of: the National Liquor Cure cures without dejection from business or the ordinary avocations in which the person is engaged. Such a thing as this is surely worthy of investigation.

SANG THE CREATION.
Haydn's Oratorio Rendered by the Pasadena Choral Society.

The Pasadena Choral Society gave another of those renditions of oratorio
Tuesday evening at the Universalist Church, which has distinguished its work this season, and made a name for the organization synonymous with good music, well rendered. While it has been freely said by musicians that the concert given previous to this of Tuesday evening was the best ever heard in Pasadena, the work of the society last evening was superior to anything heretofore attempted by it. There was no orchestral support, except that of the great organ of the church, at which Thomas H. Edwards, the solo piano, played by Miss Ellsworth, but the background furnished for the vocal work was satisfactory in every particular.

B. O. Kendall's rendition of the part of "Raphael" was superb, and his great voice demonstrated a richness and melodious expression of the idea of the part assigned to him that brought forth warm applause. His rendition of "Roll On, Flowing Billows" was one of the finest pieces of work done during the evening. Mrs. Clapp was exceedingly happy in the role of Gabriel; F. A.
Bacon as Uriel did a splendid job.
His tenor being sweet and refined, rather than dramatic.

Miss Madeline Guttin as Eve made her debut before a Pasadena audience.
Her voice is a light, sweet soprano, equal to the demands made upon it in that particular part. Walter Schneider as Adam, sang with a technique which displayed careful training and much natural ability. His voice is one of which much may be expected in the future. The chorus work was beautifully executed, the attack being with a precision that comes from the skillful handling of such a director as O.

WRIGHT IRRIGATION BONDS.

The American Banker claims to have word from San Francisco that a representative of a New York speculator is in California quietly buying up irrigation bonds, issued under the Wright act, which Judge Ross declared unconstitutional, and a review of which decision is made before the United States Supreme Court. The report states that the operations of the speculator are being assisted by W. Hamilton Gray, Fresno contractor, who is thoroughly familiar with the physical conditions pertaining to those bonds. If this report is true it would indicate that the speculator in question anticipates the reversal of Judge Ross's decision.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

THE HEARNE LIBEL CASE IS IN FULL SWING.

Warm Discussion of Points of Law, Confession of the Brutal Murderer, Etc.—Election of School District Trustees Called.

SAN DIEGO, June 4.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Goddess of Justice, with the one pan scale, and the County Courtroom, appeared happier, if anything, when the news was circulated that Dr. Hearne, in his $100,000 libel suit against the San Francisco Chronicle, had retained the Hon. Thomas Fitch of Phoenix, Ariz., to act for his side of the case. Thomas is known as "the silver-tongued orator of the Pacific Coast," even though his published utterances of late in the New York Tribune and elsewhere, have indicated that he was for gold—the bright yellow gold of the Sierra—when it comes to talking the money question. In connection with national politics, should Arizona become a State would Thomas become a United States Senator? It is a question that has interested many minds. He could give many of the cracked-brained bipeds now wearing senatorial togas many valuable points, and his power as a speaker would be a gain to the nation's Senate. It is a pleasure to San Diegans to once more welcome Mr. Fitch beside the rostrum, and his aid fellow-citizens in helping straighten out the affairs of justice, in their midst. His participation in this affair, in which the disability of Miss Justice on the courthouse dome, as the poor girl tries to weigh things accurately with her one pan scale.

After yards and yards of weary questioning on Monday and Tuesday, a jury of good men and true was secured by Tuesday afternoon, not by counsel for the plaintiff squared themselves for the presentation of their case. Judge Van Dyke evidently felt relieved that the jury was at last secured, and the more interesting business of the case was at hand. Plaintiff's counsel outlined his side of the case, reviewing the charges of Dr. Hearne, referring to their remoteness and to the articles in the Chronicle concerning the affair. These alleged damaging, intemperate and untrue articles were offered in evidence, also the papers relating to Hearne's arrest, trial and acquittal in Missouri. A Chronicle editorial was introduced in evidence, also a letter, and an exception taken by defendant's counsel.

Dr. Hulbert was called as first witness. He reviewed the charges of Dr. Hearne in the Chronicle. Judge Works, counsel for plaintiff, asked:

"Did you understand the article to charge Hearne with a part in the killing of Stillwell?"

Attorney Wood, for the defendant, objected because of the remoteness of the article in its meaning, and no explanation was necessary as to how a reader would understand it. The article was in plain English, the charges of murder were charged, and no such meaning could be ascribed to it. The words of the article were not ambiguous, and it would be the duty of the jury to read upon its construction in the absence of words requiring explanation. The court informed Judge Works that his question seemed to be one of mere verbiage, and the following dialogue ensued:

Works. We claim the article is ambiguous, and has a meaning that Hearne had no such intention.

Court. An article might be written that would create damage where the writer had no such intention.

Works. We think the article implies crime, and I am going to submit the question. We would quote authorities, but it would take some time.

Lawyer Wood cited authorities indicating that the court should decide where language was ambiguous. He held that in this instance court should decide if murder was charged, and if not, then the jury should decide.

Works. If the court holds that the article charges crime, then this testimony is incompetent, and we will prove other matters.

Wood. We hold that no crime has been charged, and therefore there is no libel and no case exists.

Mr. Hunsaker here called attention to the fact that the plaintiff charged murder. The most that could be said against the article was implication that Hearne was a murderer.

For two hours the attorneys argued the point of the charge of murder, and it was held that the most that could be gathered from the article is that a suspicion attached to the defendant, where grand jury had investigated the plaintiff's alleged connection with the crime and newspapers had more or less to say. It would be strange to say that the language implied the charge of murder, where there was a suspicion in some way or another in connection with the transaction. That's my conception of the article. That is in the nature of libel, according to the code, however, unjust.

Works. Do I understand you, your honor, to hold that the language as construed by the reader is not the true meaning of the article?

Mr. Hunsaker here cited authorities to show that if the Judge holds that libel is not reasonably apparent by reason of innuendo he may take the case from the jury, and render judgment of non-suit.

Court. I should think the article capable of such a construction, but as to whether it is reasonable, I should think the jury had a right to pass upon it.

At the opening of the court this morning, citations were submitted by the lawyers from authorities bearing on the question so lengthily discussed.

A MURDERER'S CONFESSION.

The confession of J. J. Eblanks, convicted of murdering the aged Mrs. Biles and Mr. Barden, near Oceanside, last year, is a tale of brutality seldom excelled in the annals of crime. He asked Barden for something to eat. As Barden stooped over his cot Eblanks shot him dead. Mrs. Biles screamed with fright. The murderer told her to prepare to die in order that her testimony might not jeopardize his life. He then shot her down as mercilessly as a man would shoot a wildcat. It appears that Eblanks has recently been trying to break fall by having his cell bars with a saw made from a shoe shank. The steel core of the bars prevented the saw from cutting entirely through them.

The murderer had also provided himself with a sharp spear with which to kill the jailer if necessary.

SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

Mayor Carlson has returned from the East. He has a good deal to say about himself as usual, and of his association with Dewey, Vanderbilt, appropriation bills, etc. Nothing was said about the action of the California Eastern Railway stockholder in turning him down with a dull thud. The public here is beginning to "size up" Little Billee at his true value.

An election of trustees for San Diego school district has been called for Friday. It is claimed that the City Board of Education is an illegal body and not elected according to the general law, but created by special laws passed for San Diego alone. It is stated that if any trustees are elected on Friday they will attempt to act in place of the Board of Education, and then the question of the legality of the present board will be taken before the courts for settlement.

Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Bogert leave the Wade homestead for New York. Dr. Bogert has a three months' leave of absence from the Navy Department. He expects assignment to duty on the Atlantic Coast.

Judge Piers issues an injunction restraining Orison Brewster from disposing of his property pending the trial of the divorce case brought against him by his wife, Fannie E. Brewster.

S. J. Hill, grocer, sells a part interest in his business to George R. Tenney of Newburyport, Mass. The new firm will be known as the Hill Grocery Company.

The wedding of Lesser Summerfield of San Francisco and Miss Cora Blochman of this city at the Hotel Florence, was a fashionable affair.

THE PLAINTIFF RESTS.

SAN DIEGO, June 3.—In the Hearne De Young libel suit today the court closed the objection interposed by the defendant's counsel. Dr. K. G. Hurlbert, that he had read the article on which the suit was based and that it conveyed to his mind the impression that Dr. Hearne had been implicated in a murder. A large number of other persons then testified to the effect that they had read the article and that it conveyed to their minds the impression that Dr. Hearne had been implicated in a murder. SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

TRUSTEES DISCUSSING DANGER OF WATER FAMINE.

Several Propositions for Supplying a Deficiency in the Supply if the Water is Shut Off—Supervisors Reject the Inspectors' Bills.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) The water question occupied the attention of the City Trustees Tuesday evening. The possibility of finding other water in case of the city losing the 100 inches from Lytle Creek was the special theme.

George M. Cooley advised sinking a large surface well and pumping the water into the reservoir, estimating the cost of the plant at $3000, and the expense at $250 per month, as against a present expense of $600 per month.

Dr. Hunsley thought there was an abundant supply in the Lytle already sunk at the reservoir, if the water was pumped.

F. C. Finkle, favored Mr. Cooley's proposal. It is estimated that it would require about two months to put the above plans in operation, and meanwhile the city would experience a water famine.

Tuesday evening the reservoir contained but 7 inches, but 30 inches were running. Several parties were started through town to turn off water wherever possible, and this resulted in an increase to twelve inches by this morning.

Later, Judge Campbell came up from Los Angeles this morning and proceeded to Riverside, where he asked the court to grant a writ of injunction restraining the Lytle Creek Water and Improvement Company from reducing the water supply of this city to below 100 inches. At 3:30 this (Tuesday) afternoon word was received that Judge Noyes had granted the injunction prayed for, thus at least temporarily saving the city from a short supply.

at Belleville, Ill., a few miles from St. Louis, was totally destroyed by the late cyclone in that locality. Mr. Ogile's brother, in his family, who were occupying the house, were all saved by jumping into the storm cellar, but some of the next-door neighbors were killed. Nearly all the personal effects of the Ogile family, including those of Misses Gille and Jessie Ogile, two sisters now in St. Louis on a visit to their brother, George W. Ogile, were scattered to the four winds of the earth.

John Weber, a resident of this place for the past eight or ten years, has also learned that his old home at New Baden was one of the only six that escaped destruction from the St. Louis cyclone, and in the numerous list of the killed at this little town every single name was of someone personally known to him.

WEDDING BELLS.

Grand Marriage of a Pretty Colored Singer.

The event of a lifetime in the first circles of Los Angeles colored society was the wedding of Miss Julia B. Williams to W. H. Roan, which occurred Tuesday evening at the African Methodist Episcopal Church on Sixth street. Miss Williams is a representative woman of her race, being the finest singer of all the colored people in California, and for that reason, selected to sing upon the day allotted to the Africans at the Midwinter fair. The bridegroom is a prosperous caterer in this city. No pains or expense were spared to make the wedding a brilliant affair, of which the story should be handed down from generation to generation, commemorating the great and lasting triumph of the Methodists over all rivals when it came to a really well occasion. The church was lined with the great guests of the fair, and the triumph of the Methodists over all rivals when it came to a really well occasion. The church was lined with the great guests of the fair, and the triumph of the Methodists over all rivals when it came to a really well occasion.

At 8 o'clock Mrs. Simon, Howard Green and C. Johnson, attired in irreproachable evening dress, kept order in the crowded church, and saw that the guests were comfortably seated. The building was jammed, fully half the guests being white people well known in Los Angeles society. At 8 o'clock Mrs. Mary Jenkins, the accompanist and personal friend of Miss Williams, struck the first chords of the wedding march, and the bride procession walked slowly up the aisle. At the head marched W. H. Butler, with Miss Willa Wade upon his arm, followed by J. Wilburn, with Miss Sara Taylor. Miss Wade wore pink cashmere, with pearl trimmings, and bearing upon a white satin cushion the wedding ring, tied with white ribbon. Two little flower girls followed, strewn blossoms from the baskets they carried. The little brown maids were 6 years old, and wore little empire frocks of tulle, one of pink, and the other of green.

The bride came next, leaning on the arm of her father, and followed by her two brothers. She wore a gorgeous dress of white silk covered with mosses, selene de sole, with white satin streamers falling from the neck to the hem of the skirt, and ornaments of pearl. The center piece was four and one-half yards long. Diamonds glittered on her neck and in her ears, and she carried a large cluster of white carnations and maidenhair fern, tied with white ribbon.

After the ceremony had been performed by Rev. S. W. Hawkins, pastor of the church, the happy couple returned to the home of the bride's father, on Amalia street, where a reception was given to nearly two hundred guests. The house was gay with flowers and Japanese lanterns, and the bountiful supper provided by caterers who understood their business made a particularly cheerful finish to this crowning society function of the colored Methodists in this city.

Wandered Many Miles.

Yesterday afternoon the men at Sprang, Futon and Company's place on the corner of Vermont avenue and Jefferson street saw a little 3-year-old girl wander past, but as the little tot seemed to know what she was about, they did not stop her. But some time later a grocer named Lawrence, who lives at Jefferson street and Western avenue, drove up with the baby in his wagon. He had found her near Park station, over a mile and a half away; it was growing dusk and the child was unable to tell where she lived or what was her name. Lawrence telephoned to the Police Station. There he learned that the baby was named Frances, and that she was the daughter of J. B. Hauvichorst. She had wandered away at 11 o'clock in the morning. The grocer at once took the tired baby to her home at No. 214 South Union avenue.

Theory and results prove Bull-Dog strongest hose for money made.
